The Ten Commandments

In his sermons Father Harry has been giving us insight into the the ten commandments. To refresh your memory they are listed here for you to review:

- I. I am the LORD your God, who brought you out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage. You shall have no other gods before me.
- II. You shall not make for yourself a graven image, or any likeness of anything that is in heaven above, or that is in the earth beneath, or that is in the water under the earth. You shall not bow down to them or serve them: for I the LORD your God am a jealous God, visiting the iniquity of the fathers upon the children to the third and fourth generation of those who hate me, but showing steadfast love to thousands of those who love me and keep my commandments.
- III. You shall not take the name of the LORD your God in vain; for the LORD will not hold him guiltless who takes his name in vain.
- IV. Remember the Sabbath day, to keep it holy. Six days you shall labor, and do all your work: but the seventh day is a Sabbath to the LORD your God; in it you shall not do any work, you, or your son, or your daughter, your manservant, or your maidservant, or your cattle, or the sojourners within your gates; for in six days the LORD made heaven and earth. The sea and all that is in them, and rested the seventh day; therefore, the LORD blessed the Sabbath day and hallowed it.
- V. Honor your father and your mother, that your days may be long in the land which the Lord your God gives you.
- VI. You shall not kill.
- VII. You shall not commit adultery.
- VIII. You shall not steal.
- IX. You shall not bear false witness against Your neighbor.
- X. You shall not covet your neighbor's house; you shall not covet your neighbor's wife, or his man servant, or his maidservant, or his ox, or his ass, or anything that is your neighbor's.

St. Patrick
Enlightener of Ireland

Dismissal Hymn. Third Tone.
O Holy Hierarch, equal to the Apostles, St. Patrick, wonderworker and enlightener of Ireland: intercede with our merciful God that he grant to our souls forgiveness of offenses.

St. Patrick, the Enlightener of Ireland
March 17/30

Saint Patrick, the Apostle of the Irish, was seized from his native Britain by Irish marauders when he was sixteen years old. Though the son of a deacon and the grandson of a priest, it was not until his captivity that he sought out the Lord with his whole heart. In his Confession, the testament he wrote toward the end of his life, he says, "After I came to Ireland—every day I had to tend sheep, and many times a day I prayed—the love of God and His fear came to me more and more, and my faith was strengthened. And my spirit was so moved that in a single day I would say as many as a hundred prayers, and almost as many at night, and this even when I was staying in the woods and on the mountain; I would rise for prayer before daylight, through snow, through frost, through rain, and I felt no harm." After six years of slavery in Ireland, he was guided by God to make his escape, and afterwards struggled in the monastic life at Auxerre in Gaul, under the guidance of the holy Bishop Germanus. Many years later he was ordained bishop and sent to Ireland once again, about the year 432, to convert the Irish to Christ. His arduous labours bore so much fruit that within seven years, three bishops were sent from Gaul to help him shepherd his flock, "My brethren and sons whom I have baptized in the Lord—so many thousands of people....." he says in his Confession. His apostolic work was not accomplished without much "weariness and painfulness," long journeys through difficult country, and many perils; he says his very life was in danger twelve times. When he came to Ireland as its enlightener, it was a pagan country; when he ended his earthly life some thirty years later, about 461, the Faith of Christ was established in every corner.
